

Adjustment of Tuition Fees

Valid from the academic year 2025/26

From the 2025/26 academic year onwards, there will be an initial increase in tuition fees, which have remained unchanged since 2004:

The tuition fee will be increased from €363.36 or €726.72 to €450 or €900.

Introduction of a dual degree fee:

- Students enrolled in two or more degree programmes with the same major artistic subject (e.g. BA and MA in the same instrument) will be required to pay an additional surcharge of €150 on top of the single tuition fee of €450 or €900.
- If you are studying two or more programmes with different major artistic subjects, you must pay the full tuition fee for each programme.

An increase in tuition fees for students exceeding the standard period of study plus two tolerance semesters: From the third exceeding semester onwards, an increased fee of €675 or €1,350 per degree programme is to be paid.

Introduction of a graduation bonus: Students who successfully complete their degree within the standard period of study will receive a refund of the last regular semester's tuition as a bonus. This means that over the entire Bachelor's degree programme, a student only pays about 8% more (previously €2,906.88, now €3,150.00), while the Master's degree will cost even less (previously €1,453.44, now €1,350).

	EU / EWR / CH Students	Third Country National Students	Dual Degree
previous tuition fee (unchanged since 2004)	363,36 € per Semester	726,72 € per Semester	basic tuition fees
New tuition fee (from 2025/26)	450,00 € per Semester	900,00 € per Semester	for the same degree programme: basic tuition fee + 150 € for different degree programmes: basic tuition fee x number of different degree programmes
If the standard period of study is exceeded + 2 tolerance semesters	675,00 € per Semester	1.350,00 € per Semester	The specific calculation of the tuition fee is made by Student Services.

Thanks to the financial support of the Federal State of Upper Austria, which currently contributes an average of more than €26,000 per student every academic year, the tuition fees at the Anton Bruckner University are considerably lower than at comparable international institutions. There are also many possibilities for financing ones' studies through scholarships and grants.

From the 2025/26 academic year onwards, there will also be an adjustment to the registration fees: the post-enrolment contribution will be increased from €50 to €100. When resuming studies after de-registration, all paused semesters (up to a maximum of 4) will be charged including the late-enrolment fee.
